Description

Wall clock from the 60s in wood and metal by Diehl. This clock is new and yet it dates from the 60s! How is this possible, let me explain... we were very lucky to find a stock of clocks from a former sales representative. These clocks were presented from town to town to the watch and jewelry stores which abounded at the time. They have therefore never been used, they have been waiting for 50 years to be adopted! Each one has been taken care of, tested and put back in the box in which we found it (even if sometimes the box reference is different, but we wanted to keep everything as is). It's a tiny piece of history that has come down to us intact. A direct link with a not-so-distant past
