

Louis XVI Bronze Table/mantel Clock By F. Barbedienne (1860)

2 900 EUR

Signature : F .Barbedienne

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Gilt bronze

Length : 50 cm / 20 inch

Width : 23 cm / 16 inch

Depth : 16 cm / 6 inch

Description

Ferdinand Barbedienne (6 August 1810 - 21 March 1892) was a French metalworker and manufacturer, who was well known as a bronze founder.

Prepare to be enraptured by the unparalleled beauty and craftsmanship of this extraordinary French Louis XVI table/chimney clock, crafted circa 1860 in bronze in France and signed by the esteemed F. Barbedienne. Ferdinand Barbedienne, a revered figure in the world of metalworking and bronze founding, lends his signature to this masterpiece, solidifying its place as a testament to the pinnacle of 19th-century French artistry.

Every detail of this clock speaks to the dedication

Dealer

Osmanantique

Vente d'horloges, bronze et porcelaine

Mobile : +31651126214

Polderweg 6

Loenersloot 3634

and skill of its creator. From its meticulously crafted decorations to its regal rooster perched atop branches adorned with delicately sculpted leaves, each element is a marvel of artistry and precision. The fine craftsmanship is a sight to behold, captivating the viewer with its intricate beauty that commands attention and admiration.

Functionality meets elegance with its 8-day movement, ensuring not only precise timekeeping but also a melodious chime that resonates with every whole and half hour. Accompanied by a sun pendulum, winding key, and bell, this clock is not merely a decorative piece but a fully functional work of art. The dial, embellished with cartouches bearing Latin numerals, adds a touch of classical sophistication to its design, further enhancing its allure.

Measuring approximately 50 cm in height, 23 cm in width, and 16 cm in depth (20 inches high, 9 inches wide, 6 inches deep), this clock stands as a testament to the opulence and grandeur of its era, commanding attention in any setting. Carefully packaged for secure transit, it will be shipped with tracking and insurance, ensuring its safe arrival to your doorstep.

Immerse yourself in the splendor and historical significance of this exceptional French Louis XVI clock, a treasure to be cherished for generations to come.