Description

Charming little 18th century table in cherry wood with screen. Front with a drawer (fir tree side and bottom. dovetail assemblies, original button) It rests on 4 curved and molded legs Small old restoration on a leg in good general condition. These small tables with fire screens had two functions, on the one hand to protect the face from the heat of the fire and thus prevent the face from reddening too much and also to protect the candle flame from drafts when writing a note. .
