ancient Persian decorations, knotted with great finesse and superb quality of Kork wool.
Around 1980 in perfect condition, we can hardly imagine the immense work to put together such a marvel.
The quality of these Persian pieces is clear, the work is fine, precise and durable over time.
The decor is sumptuous, fine in the details, the colors very delicate.
The materials used are of the highest quality: fine and soft Kork wool, taken from the neck and under the belly of the lambs, makes up the velvet, and fine cotton for the weft.
This rug is clean (spotless), the wool is knotted beautifully and finely tight as these rugs always are.
It reveals to us shades full of contrasts, many colors, blues, reds, curry, black, orange, straw yellow, ivory.....
It is surrounded by a border grouping alternating medallions and rosettes on an almost salmon background.
Traditional wool rug, comfortable and heavy duty.
The nuances underline this learned floral design in the great tradition of Persian art which is also found in Mughal art, inspired by the miniatures of the Tabriz school, then capital of the Persian empire.
