God Demonstrated by Nature and of Answers to the Difficulties of Unbelievers against Various Places in the Holy Books. But he is known above all for his Memoirs on the Celtic language as well as for his Historical Research on playing cards and his Dissertation on various subjects of French history. It is in this last work that he maintains that the word fleur de lys does not come from the resemblance of this royal insignia with the flower of the same name but from the word "lis" which in the Celtic language would have meant "sovereign king" .
