Description

Admire this exceptional piece: a majestic gilt bronze clock from the Empire period, of timeless beauty. Its imposing silhouette, a finely chiseled bronze portico clock, evokes the elegance and grandeur of this emblematic artistic period. At the heart of this work, sits a dial signed Ferrary, a renowned brand, adding a touch of prestige to this collector's item. The pristine white enameled circular dial is adorned with Roman numerals, infusing an Empire-era charm and aura of sophistication. But the real gem lies in the details: a captivating poetic scene unfolds on the dial. A Greek poet, graceful and inspiring, is represented next to a lyre, symbol of creativity and music. She carries a cup and an eiger in her hands. This scene, perfectly preserved, captivates the imagination and adds an artistic dimension to this
