worked there for more than thirty years, adapting without problem to the evolution of the different styles of the 18th century. century and very quickly acquired great notoriety. His career began with very refined chests of drawers with a curved shape in the Louis XV style, secretaries, desks, small tables, finely inlaid with flowering branches. With the appearance of "Greek taste" he took inspiration from classical art for the decoration of his furniture. His Transition chests of drawers are often decorated with bronze made of two urns topped with drapery, others are inlaid with geometric or flower motifs. In the Louis XVI style, he mainly made furniture in solid wood, which he decorated with lacquered panels or mosaics. Overall, Nicolas Petit's furniture, with simple and classic decors, is always in good taste and made with care. in very good state of conservation delivery throughout France for 125 euros do not hesitate to contact me for more information in order to buy with full knowledge
