Description

Empty pocket in marble and patinated bronze representing a young chilly woman. Circa 1910. ? Dim height 39 cm diam 29 cm This refined bronze, dating from around 1910, is a work of great delicacy and remarkable finesse. It represents a young woman expressing a feeling of reluctance. The details of his posture perfectly capture the emotion and fragility of the moment. The storage compartment integrated into the sculpture adds practical functionality while elegantly harmonizing with the aesthetic of the period. This blend of grace and utility makes this piece a valuable testament to art nouveau, a period when elegance and ornamentation were at their peak.
