

PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Raphaël Ponson (1835-1904) La Rue Des Matelas In Rouen, Normandy

1 500 EUR

Signature : Raphaël Ponson (1835-1904)

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Oil painting on cardboard

Length : 20 cm

Height : 36 cm

Description

A walk in a Norman street by the great Provençal artist Raphaël Ponson, the seaside specialist in the south and who for the occasion presents us with an "old street in Rouen", rue des Matelas, which has now disappeared.

The work is done in oil on a cardboard panel, it is in its good original condition, cleaning by a professional could be considered, which would restore the original colors and clarity.

Signed lower left, countersigned and titled on the back, it is offered in a gilded frame which measures 47.5 cm by 30.5 cm, and 36 cm by 20 cm for the painting alone.

A beautiful document for collectors or residents of this beautiful region of Northern France.

Renowned for his landscapes of the Provençal

Dealer

Galerie Marina

19th and 20th century Provençal School paintings

Mobile : +33 6 12 18 42 09

5, Place Mirabeau

Cassis 13260

coast, Raphaël Ponson is the son of a theater decorator who taught him the basics of painting. Then he took classes at the practical drawing school in Marseille where he was a student of Émile Loubon, who taught him to paint landscapes while respecting the local tone. He went to Paris in 1855 and 1856, then to Italy where he completed his training. He then settled permanently in Marseille. He began at the Marseille Salon in 1852, and at the Paris Salon in 1861 with La Châtaigneraie near Chevreuse and Le Château d'If in Marseille harbor.

Works

In 1863, he decorated the gallery of private apartments of the new prefecture of Marseille. For the decoration of the rooms on the first floor of the Natural History Museum of the Palais Longchamp, Henri-Jacques Espérandieu called on Raphaël Ponson whose flexible and brilliant talent would be perfectly suited to the execution of this work according to the architect's remarks during of the presentation of the submission letter to the municipal council¹. In 1867, he decorated the three rooms on the first floor where he painted the spectacular natural sites: Niagara Falls, the Sea of Ice, the Amazon rainforest and the basalt caves of Fingal in one of the Hebrides Islands. The most famous room is that of Provence, where Ponson represents different landscapes for each of the small regions of Provence: cork oaks, chestnut trees and arbutus trees for the Var, olive trees and oleanders for Bouches-du-Rhône, and mulberry trees, almond trees and melons for Vaucluse². He also decorates the Rigaud³ café and the Plauchut patisserie at the top of La Canebière in Marseille.

He specializes in the representation of beaches, coves and sea shores around Marseille. To distinguish himself from his younger brother, Étienne Aimé Ponson, still life painter, he added his first name to his surname. Present in numerous regional exhibitions, he obtained several awards.

Works in public collections

Aix-en-Provence, Granet museum: Gulf of Bandol.

Avignon, Calvet museum: L'Anse de la Couronne near Martigues.

Béziers, Museum of Fine Arts:

Calanque de Port Pin near Cassis;

Evening at the Gulf of Bandol.

Carcassonne, Museum of Fine Arts: Seaside in Bandol.

Cassis, Mediterranean municipal museum: Italian brick in the port of Cassis.

Digne-les-Bains, Gassendi museum: The Calanque de Sormiou.

Dijon, Museum of Fine Arts: The Château d'If: morning effect⁵.

Hyères: Coastline in Hyères.

Rue de la République, Marseille, Bouches-du-Rhône prefecture hotel.

Marseille:

Museum of Fine Arts:

Morning in Sausset;

Cotes de Sormiou;

Marine.

Maritime Museum: Coal ships in the national basin, 1890.

Bouches-du-Rhône prefecture hotel, private apartments: four circular paintings, ordered on May 23, 1866 by the prefect Charlemagne de Maupas to decorate a gallery of his apartments, representing districts of Marseille:

The Longchamp Palace;

Republic Street;

Borély Park;

The Pharo.

Narbonne, Museum of Art and History:

View of Endoume;

Gull nest at the Port-Miou cove.

Toulon, Art Museum: Undergrowth in Sainte-Marguerite.

Tours, Museum of Fine Arts: Rocks in Cassis.