980 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Porcelain

Diameter : 22cm

Description

Porcelain plate decorated in Holland in the Kakiemon style decorated with quails and millet. The border is richly decorated with prunus on a green enameled crackled background. Roosters also appear in cartouches alternating with quails. On the reverse, a Jue jug in a double circle.
China 18TH
Kangxi Period CIRCA 1720.

Diameter: 22cm

The quality of the decoration and the presence of roosters may suggest that it is a decoration from the Yongzheng period, on porcelain from the Kangxi period.

This motif does not appear in Hélène Espir's book on Chinese porcelain decorated in the West, but
