Description

Important and beautiful carved wooden sculpture from the 18th century representing Saint Joseph. Him standing, his right arm slightly raised, the other holding a stick.... his finely sculpted and polychromed face with a gentle and benevolent look looking at you.... he is adorned with a dress with numerous folds with light movements.... note a few repetitions of the gilding but as always... very beautiful original polychromy of the face as well as the hands... well-made set, very beautiful finesse of details. In short, a beautiful sculpture is interesting for its dimensions and its quality of execution. French work from the 18th century. for lovers of beautiful sculpture!! possibility of sending by specialized courier.
