

PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Eduardo León Garrido (1856-1949) - Sleeping Woman In Pink Dress

2 800 EUR

Signature : Eduardo León Garrido (1856-1949)

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Oil painting on wood

Length : 39

Width : 39

Description

Eduardo León Garrido (1856-1949)

Sleeping Woman in a Pink Dress

Oil on panel, signed lower right

39 x 39 cm

Provenance:

Private collection, France

Eduardo León Garrido, a Spanish painter born in 1856 in Madrid, is a significant figure in the Impressionist movement. Trained at the Academy of Fine Arts of San Fernando, he later moved to Paris where he was influenced by French artistic trends, particularly the works of Manet and the Impressionists. He is known for his elegant

Dealer

Objets Choisis

Old master paintings and drawings

Mobile : 06 84 43 91 81

229 Rue Saint-Honoré

Paris 75001

portraits and genre scenes, often bathed in soft, natural light.

"Sleeping Woman in a Pink Dress" is a beautiful representation of intimacy and tranquility, recurring characteristics in his work. The woman, wrapped in a pink dress with delicate tones, rests peacefully, her face expressing deep serenity. Garrido's technique, visible in the loose brushstrokes and rich textures, creates an almost dreamlike atmosphere. The soft and warm colors reinforce this impression of calm and gentleness.

This square-format piece invites the viewer to an intimate, almost voyeuristic contemplation of this private moment. Garrido masters the art of capturing light and shadows, adding a lively and tangible dimension to the scene. The Impressionist touches are evident, with visible brushstrokes and color blends that add depth and texture to the painting.

His works continue to attract the attention of collectors and art lovers for their timeless beauty and impressive technique. "Sleeping Woman in a Pink Dress" is a striking example of his talent for capturing moments of life with remarkable artistic sensitivity.