

Jite In The Shape Of A Japanese Tachi Miniature Sword

675 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Wrought iron

Length : 41 cm environ

Description

very rare piece of defense for guards / police officers etc. in the samurai period

To compare with the traditional jite style, but here in the shape of a miniature sword very solid steel construction to ward off saber blows during the feudal system of Japan, it was forbidden to carry a sword to the shogun's palace; this was also the rule for the palace guards, who had a police role.

extremely rare in this form construction in steel, copper, shakudo and wood

Dealer

Art-Antiques & Armour

Art - Antiques & Armour

Tel : +32477486582

Enghien 7850