Description

We are offering for sale a remarkable Christ of Majesty in enamelled bronze, dated to the 11th century. This exceptional crucifix has a blue and red enamelling typical of medieval Romanesque art. Characteristics: Christ on the cross with a long draped robe, with parallel vertical folds, held at the waist by a golden belt. The robe, polychromed in dark blue, has long sleeves, contrasting with the usual colobium which often stops at the elbows. Imposing head, representing a fifth of the total height, with wide open eyes, a narrow nose, hair falling in curls and a pointed beard ending in twists. The widely extended hands are sculpted with an accentuated realism, and the fingers separated, a distinctive archaic sign. The thin feet rest parallel on a square board. The face has an oriental Byzantine character, an important
