Description

This gilded wood console, topped with a Brèche de Guillestre marble with bec de corbin, presents a belt decorated with foliage, acanthus leaves, scrolls and a large shell. These elements rest on two curved legs, each of which is sculpted with decorations of acanthus leaves in the form of scrolls and here also with foliage ending in small ball feet. This base is joined by a knockout crosspiece with a central sculpture. This wall console will attract attention with its charisma and the beauty of its original gilding. *****
Period: Mid-19th Century Excellent condition.
