Description

Impressionist painting by Suzanne Camille Désirée FREMONT.

This woman painter who appears in BENEZIT was born in 1876 in Chatillon-sous-Bagneux and died in 1962 in Bormes.

She was a student of Maximilien LUCE and Eugène CARRIERE. In 1921 she founded the Tananarive School of Fine Arts.

She exhibited at the Salon des Artistes Français, at the Salon de la Société Nationale des Beaux-Arts and at the Salon d'Automne. Trained by several impressionist painters, she created numerous landscapes imbued with a poetic and serene atmosphere.

Marseille Museum and Carnavalet Museum.

This scene represents little communicants in Brittany.

The scene is treated with large touches of material in the impressionist style, even slightly influenced by the Nabis.

It is on its original chassis. Note a small hole at the top left and a restoration made by affixing a patch to the back.

Size: 46 cm x 33 cm.
