Description

They said they were going to shoot pipes, I never heard it said "...shooting dogs..." and yet they are there, 90 survivors who are showing off too happy to have escaped the platoons of kids who are so proud of their shots..... They didn't miss one from 32 cm away anyway... Unless the subjects were mobile... That was another story.... we were less strutting ... I knew the floors of fairground cabins littered with victims but they were plaster tubes which sometimes exploded with a bang. Game: in the photos, look for the intruder....
