Description

Large oil on canvas from its stained glass period (the best in my opinion and the most sought after). Format 100/65 cm good condition, signed several times and titled on the back "the 3 ages of life" dated January 1958, other titles are mentioned. Jacques Pinon, 1927-2018 Montluçon. A true jack of all trades, like the Renaissance artists, painting, sculpture, stained glass, tapestry (Aubusson)...etc... He notably collaborated with Le Corbusier and Lucien Hervé for the stained glass windows of the Ste Thérèse church, monumental frescoes or metal furniture. He also designed contemporary tapestries in Aubusson in the workshops of R. Picaud where Calder, Aujame, Braque, Toffoli worked... with a beautiful meeting with Cocteau and his adopted son Lhermitte. For painting: a major exhibition in characters in an abstract decor which is entirely reminiscent of the stained glass windows of a church.
