Description

Old brooch convertible into a pendant and vice versa, representing a star with chiseled decorations and decorated in its center and in applique, with another black enameled star and decorated in applique with old cushion-cut diamonds and fine half-pearls, all held in claws on silver. An open round ring forms the bail and can be removed. A pin with safety hook that folds down can also be removed. A rack and pinion system allows the central star studded with diamonds to be removed. This part could be positioned on another ancient jewel which unfortunately has not reached us. Period: 19th century Main material: yellow gold, 750 thousandths, 18 carats, horse's head hallmark and silver. Total weight of diamonds: approximately 1 carat. Proportions: Height: approximately 4.5 cm, 19.4g. Authentic old jewel - French work from the second half of the 19th century. Our opinion: Old jewelry on the theme of the stars is characteristic of the second half of the 19th century. This old transformation brooch was part of a much larger set. To find out more Discover the product sheet
