Description

We present this flat-bottomed carafe, which was certainly part of the tableware on a sailing boat in the 19th century. These carafes have a flat bottom so they don't tip over when swirling on the water. This carafe is cut on all parts including the stopper. In the center at the front in a medallion is engraved in the glass a sailing boat and an inscription in English. In a perfect state. Weight 2 kg (E24)
