Description

Elegant Art Deco Modernist chandelier in the spirit of this movement in the United States in the 1930s, which will influence the aesthetics of all the creation of this decade, from furniture to automobiles and even skyscrapers. The refined forms, taut lines and systematic symmetry are close to futurism and bolidism, the opposite of the previous period, naturalistic and exuberant.

Structure in solid bronze of high quality (14.5 kg of bronze) with 6 arms of light equipped with double layer opalines, exterior of a subtle blue and interior white, producing an interesting and astonishing effect of gradient from white to blue once the chandelier is lit while they are uniformly blue light off. Compared to the photos the gradient effect is actually more gradual and the
