Description

This beautiful and elegant Louis XV style chandelier, richly decorated with its twelve arms of light on two levels, is of a respectable size and has a beautiful design. Indeed, the central body is generous and decorated with potbellies and plumes from which twelve arms of light, very ornamented in Baroque style, openwork scrolls. Originally this candle chandelier was the delight of a house, recently electrified and comprising 12 high quality fake candles it offers a beautiful light. Complete with its original bobèches and flasks in the purest Louis dining room. It offers all the electrical safety with its robust, serious wiring and new bulb sockets hidden in the sockets of the fake candles, well executed in trompe l'oeil of wax drippings. A fundamental element for a stylish and noble decor
