Description

Beautiful carpet from Macchad, Iran circa 1970-1980 in hand-knotted kerk wool, for approximately 360,000 knots per m2, in very good used condition. Its large size 281 cm wide by 385 cm long is suitable for large living rooms. This beautiful rug comes from the province of Mechhed, a beautiful, highly crafted piece, with normal wear. Mecched is the second largest city in Iran located in the Northeast, it is nicknamed "the city of a thousand faces."

This carpet is in good condition, it has a decoration of a large medallion with two large pendants, covering the field.

This medallion represents two stylized flowers next to each other, surrounded by sixteen large lotus flowers. From the medallion and the pendants come numerous interlacings of branches. All over the field appear fine wavy, flowery scrolls and large bouquets. The very fresh, lively colors have a dominant of a beautiful red, and deep blue for the field, the border on an ivory background. Note the quality of the wide border with an apricot and buff background bordered by numerous narrow friezes, decorated with flowers and a wide central band decorated with floral decoration. The field with very elaborate central medallion decoration is set by four small spandrels with a blue background. The fringes are long, in good condition and clean. the fine and soft kerk wool, taken from the neck and under the belly of the lambs, (at the first shearing) makes up the velvet knotted on fine cotton for the weft. This rug has been professionally and eco-friendly cleaned.
