Description

This table in solid mahogany and mahogany veneer has a belt drawer pulled by a scalloped bronze ring handle forming a laurel wreath. This table-depth drawer has an oak bottom and sides. The belt of this circular table is slightly recessed with a small square in the lower part and in the upper part. Opposite the drawer, we observe a large shelf lined with green leather with cold stamp and gold sticker. It has a mahogany surround. The four spindle-shaped legs, with fixed grooves, end in brass shoes. In the lower part, a shelf is embedded in the feet, the sides of which are concave and covered with a rimmed strip. This Louis XVI bouillotte table is topped with Brèche Romaine marble from Baixas surrounded by an openwork brass gallery.  Period: Late 19th century Perfect
