Description

Our HST represents a bucolic and idealized Italian landscape: In the foreground a shepherd with his animals and a fisherman on the edge of a river. In the background a mountain range and in the middle a bridge. On one side of it a house, a ruined round tower and a small temple and on the other a square tower and a village. The spirit of this landscape is late 18th, early 19th century, but our painting dates more from the end of the 19th or beginning of the 20th century. It is an Italian school. Good condition. Very decorative, even without a frame
