Description

Gilded bronze sculpture from the end of the 19th century representing a young woman calling out with both hands. Amusing situation symbolized by the attitude of the two hands and the inscription on the terrace Ho Hé! , interjection used to call far away. Remarkable work for its subject and the quality of patina and workmanship visible by the fineness of the details, see for example the hat hanging on the hips. Friedrich Beer and Alfred Grévin successfully collaborated to create this magnificent piece Alfred Grévin was a great designer and created the famous Grévin museum in 1882. Possibility of sending in France and throughout the world by secure and insured package. Invoice and certificate provided.
