Description

A pair of ruby-red tinted crystal perfume bottles with bell-shaped bodies and tiered pedestals, topped with their original baluster stoppers, featuring rich hand-painted decoration enhanced with gilding depicting foliage scrolls, rocaille volutes and bouquets of flowers. Bohemian. Late 19th - early 20th century. H_19 cm. Very good condition. At the turn of the 19th and 20th centuries, ruby-red crystal toiletries sets embellished with hand-painted gilding were hugely popular throughout Europe. Meticulously crafted by Bohemian glassmakers and the great French crystal manufacturers, these intensely coloured bottles added a touch of elegance and refinement to dressing tables and vanity units. Our pair of perfume bottles, which draws on the fine tradition of late 19th-century toiletries, is a
