

Lacemaker Magnifying Lamp In Blown Glass With Bell Base - Early 19th Century Glassware

450 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Glass

Diameter : 20,5 cm

Height : 32,5 cm

Description

Lacemaker Magnifying Glass Lamp in blown glass with bell base.

Early 19th century glassware. Lacemaker's magnifying lamp in blown glass with beaded bell base, intended to be filled with water and placed in front of a candle, also used by craftsmen, goldsmiths... all trades requiring precision in work when the light of the day was insufficient. Beautiful size, blown glass, thick and heavy glass.

Good condition, pontil, note some small bubbles and slight traces of transparent blowing and slight traces of limescale due to its use.

Reflections in the glass during photography.

Height: 32.5cm; diameter 20.5cm

Dealer

Les Couloirs du Temps - Samuel Collin

Folk Art and Popular Traditions, Regionalism, Curiosity

Tel : 06 81 53 21 70

Mobile : 06 70 45 88 65

Impasse des Ventes

Mézières-en-Drouais 28500