Description

Table with games, console, French dining table, old Directoire. It has five spindle feet.

This table dedicated to the game of cards is ingenious and refined. It is not only adapted to the game for which it is intended, but also to the number of players. It has several boards. The first board once opened transforms the game table into a dining table. The game table becomes a piece of furniture that can be used daily. Note that a trace appears, symbol of the passing of time and authenticity of this piece of furniture. The second board once opened reveals a felt playing mat in very good condition.

The table is opened by sliding the furniture belt: a drawer is then created to store the game elements and also to support the platter or platters when they are open.

Once folded, this piece of furniture can be attached to a wall. Narrow, it then turns into a console and can be used to present objects permanently or temporarily.

This table was made of a noble wood: mahogany. Its feet end in « feet told sabot» in bronze with wheels to facilitate the movement of the furniture.
