

Gold Earring With Grape Seeds, Parthian Culture (-190 Bc + 224 Bc)

1 600 EUR

Period : Before 16th century

Condition : En l'etat

Material : Gold

Width : 2,8 cm

Height : 3,1 cm

Description

Extremely rare earring composed of six finely worked grains, each including several picket circles with six grains arranged in a triangle in their center for a total weight of 3.6 grams. Dimensions: Width: 2.8 cm Height: 3.1 cm Parthian culture (Iran), Mesopotamia between 190 BC. J. -C. and 224 A.D. Parthia is a historic region located northeast of the Iranian plateau, a former satrapy of the Achaemenid Empire and the birthplace of the Parthian Empire that dominates the Iranian plateau and intermittently Mesopotamia during this period. With certificate of authenticity, Swiss collection provenance. Museum room

Dealer

Collection

Collection

Mobile : 0032475266745

Mons 7000