Ironstone Vase In The Mason Style, Circa 19th Century.

250 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Porcelain

Description

This is an antique ironstone vase made in the Mason style in England in the second half of the 19th century. The vase has a rather rare shape: a hexagonal base, a round body, then an expanding hexagonal neck, with two thin curved side handles ending in a mask head on either side of the neck. The central part of the vase features two different Chinese motifs on opposite sides; the motifs are surrounded by gilded floral decoration. The vase is brilliantly hand-painted in gold with bold glazes of different colours. This is a high quality piece in the recognisable Mason style, although the shape of the handles and the incorrect markings indicate that this is a high quality copy and not the original.

Dimensions: Height 25.8 cm, width 14.5 cm,

Dealer

Gillers Antiques

Specialists in 19th-century European silverware, porcelain and décor

Mobile : +44 (0) 7341 404636

Buntingford SG9 0PY

depth 12.2 cm. Weight: 779 grams.

Condition: The vase is in excellent antique condition, with no visible signs of cracks, chips or restoration. The paint, enamel and gilding are perfectly preserved.

Please study the accompanying photographs carefully as they form an integral part of this description. The item will be shipped with full tracking and insurance.