

Elegant 17th Century Corner Stand

1 200 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Solid wood

Description

Description:

linden (?), iron.

This corner stand is deeply carved with an elegant "mess" of vines, volutes on which a dragon sits.

The design of the whole, despite an apparent disorder, is quite balanced, the volutes opposing each other and especially the dragon whose neck is in the center of a broken pediment created by its two outstretched wings.

Moreover, the form of its use (saddle) appears little in a glance, it is almost a sculpture in its own right. This type of decoration on a secular object is rarely found. This stand carried a heavy statue, the strong piton is intended for heavier than the stand.

Very good conditions for this type of object, age
