Description

Large animal bronze representing a ten-horned deer on a rock.

The animal's posture is proud, the neck slightly bent backwards allowing one to appreciate the deployment of the antlers.

The slope of the rock on which the deer rests enhances this posture.

The treatment of the bronze is done in brown patina shaded with green in the hollows of the neck and the folds of the sculpture.

The hollow signature is clearly visible on the terrace.

Old cast iron in excellent condition.
