

---

Pair Of "blanc De Chine" Vases - China 17th Late Ming Circa 1640

1 400 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Porcelain

Height : 27,9cm

Description
-------------

A pair of baluster vases, with flared rims. The handles are moulded mythical beasts heads and the handles are moulded rings.

Fujian, Dehua Kilns.

China 17th century Late Ming Dynasty, circa 1640.

Height: 27.9cm (left vase) / 27.7cm (right vase)

Diameter at neck: 9.5cm

Diameter at base: 10.8cm (left vase) / 10.4cm (right vase)

For a similar model, dated 1639, see:

- Blanc de Chine, PJ Donnelly, 6.C

Provenance:

- C. Collier & Co, 7&8 Hobart Place, London

Dealer
--------

Galerie Drake

Chinese Porcelain & Chinese Works of Art

Mobile : 0689483023

32 Avenue de la République

Paris 75011

Slight colour difference between the two vases, one is more cream than the other, there are also glaze and firing defects.

The vase on the left has two chips at the base, and a chip at the neck as well as a loss to one of the rings, we also note some glaze drips and some firing defects, as well as small firing cracks in places.

The vase on the right, more cream, has losses to one of the rings, a firing crack at the base and some cracks. The two vases, although presented as a pair, have some differences, the beasts heads are slightly taller and wider on the vase on the right, and the ring is also a little wider. They nevertheless have the same provenance.

More information on request, many photos available.