Description

Magnificent idea that this artist "Lemaitre" had in 2015... He had the idea of immortalizing the fine skeleton of Kerivoula Picta, or dormouse using the electroplating process... For our greatest pleasure, he placed this now "gilded" skeleton under glass. This Naturalia object has become a work of art. Electroplating is a metallization process by precipitating ions on a support.... The rest to discover on Wikipedia, thank you
