Description

Carved, lacquered and painted wooden mirror. Venice, 18th century. 73 x 45 cm. Entirely in finely carved, lacquered and painted wood with elegant curls and medallion. Decoration with floral motifs and characters in a landscape. Influenced by the original oriental techniques, Venetian lacquering developed in the workshops of local craftsmen with a unique and unmistakable style. Its ability to reflect light and enrich the rooms with bright colors and variegated decorations, often matching the rich fabrics that adorn the halls, soon made it a status symbol in the living rooms of the time. Owning lacquered furniture and mirrors was a distinctive sign of wealth and refinement, the decorations had to be of high quality and able to amaze the visitor. Table mirrors were a very elegant
