Description

No Export airmail for this, sorry. Very large dish 51cm x 36.5cm, 3kg, 1st half of 18th century, central decoration of "Fleur des Indes", geometrically painted wing, which seems to come from the Guillibaud workshops. Very good condition, despite its mass, dish rings like a bell, we can only blame it for usual wear on edges. No cracks, breakage or restoration. This decoration with the fleur des Indes is quite rare, and dates this dish early in the 18th century. The manufacture is rustic, not to be compared with the extremely high-quality dish on the Louvre, armorial, for the Duke of Montmorency, which has same border, same fleur des Indes, and which has the advantage of being signed, by Jean-Baptiste Guillibaud (1687-1739) This object is for immediate purchase, payable by credit card
