Description

Bodice center, late 18th century. It is made of silver with rose-cut diamonds (37 in total) in a closed setting. It is all in volume, typical of the 18th century, with a floral decoration (foliage, branches, flowers). Each flower has its diamond heart. The bodice center is composed of 2 main articulated parts and three equally articulated pendants. The jewel is in perfect condition. Transport and insurance costs are not included in the price. They depend on the place and method of shipping. They are the responsibility of the buyer.
