Description
-------------

Rare pair of antique solid oak trading counters. Of equal dimensions, these pieces of furniture differ very slightly in the side panels. They are presented to you in their found condition, they would deserve to have been to the cabinetmaker because there are some cracks and missing moldings in the lower part. That said, it is extremely rare to find an identical pair. These pieces of furniture will be perfect for decorating a business, a showroom or in a very large kitchen or as a room divider behind a sofa. The interior layout also differs but there is a drawer on each. Period early 20th century around 1920.
