Description

This work depicts a woman accompanied by two greyhounds, made of metal with a patinated finish, black and gold in color. The young woman walks her dogs on a leash, as suggested by the gold-colored chain that connects them. The style of the sculpture is reminiscent of the Art Deco era, characterized by clean lines and geometric shapes. The figures are mounted on a base in grand Antique marble and a white marble with reddish veins highlighted by two Onyx elements, adding to the luxurious aspect typical of decorative arts design. This piece is interesting for its representation of dynamic movement and elegance, as well as for its reflection on the aesthetics of the early 20th century. *****
