Description

Murano glass sculptures are renowned for their quality of workmanship and beauty, and this piece is one of great elegance. This Murano glass fish-shaped sculpture features thick black glass decorated with small speckles that create a sophisticated grey speckled effect. These details not only enhance the aesthetic appeal of the set, but also reflect the high level of artistic craftsmanship that went into its creation.Despite one small flaw, a small break that is only visible from close up and is located in a relatively hidden place, this piece retains its charm and value as a collector's item. The break, highlighted in the details in the photo, does not significantly alter the overall appearance of the sculpture, allowing it to retain its status as a high-quality decorative object.Offering this sculpture at an attractive
