Description

Amusing little Louis XVI style side table, in cream yellow lacquered wood and light ochre rechampi. This pretty little piece of furniture can have various uses: bedside table, bibus, sofa bed, etc. Unique model, it probably comes from a specific order made in the middle of the 20th century. It rests on four tapered fluted and rudenté legs. The belt is straight and molded on all sides allowing it to be positioned in the middle of the room. The lower part of our piece of furniture forms a large, almost square-shaped top, topped with a niche topped with a second, shallower top. The paint shows traces of use. A few small chips and slight losses are also to be noted without harming the aesthetics of this piece of furniture, (see photos). dimensions total height 73.5 cm height to first top 40.5 cm width 69 cm total
