

PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Chinese Porcelain Wanli Kraak Plate Blue And White Ming Dynasty Export Dish 16th / 17th Century

850 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Porcelain

Diameter : 20.2 cm.

Height : 3.5 cm.

| |
|-------------|
| Description |
|-------------|

A blue and white Kraak 'bird of prey' dish.
China, Ming dynasty, Wanli period, c.
1595-1610.

The dish in the shape of a chrysanthemum, the cavetto moulded in double-tiered scallops, decorated in the center with an underglaze blue decoration of a bird of prey in a natural landscape.

Lit:

For a dish of the same type, see: Jingdezhen to the World, The Lurie Collection of Chinese Export Porcelain from the Late Ming (Teresa Canepa, 2019) p. 128-129, no. 37.

Ref:

| |
|--------|
| Dealer |
|--------|

Menken Works of Art

Art Asiatique

Tel : 00316-14916974

Herengracht 240

Amsterdam 1016BT

Kraak Porcelain, A Moment in the History of Trade, (Maura Rinaldi, 1989), p. 75, pl. 49-50, border I.

Dimensions:

Height 3.5 cm, diameter 20.2 cm.

Condition:

The dish slightly warped from firing in the kiln, some kiln grit adhering to the foot rim and to the center decoration.

Inv. No: MW92