Art Nouveau umbrella stand in green enameled cast iron, reminiscent of the famous Paris metro entrances designed by architect Hector Guimard. The delicate curves and elegant arabesque patterns, characteristic of the organic design of Art Nouveau, make this umbrella stand a true work of art. Practical and aesthetic, it will be ideal for storing your walking sticks and umbrellas while adding a deliciously retro and artistic touch to your entrance or living space. At the back, we can find the mark "castiron" "made in France"
