

Rare Pendulum Wall Light By Maison Lunel, Paris, France, Circa 1950

4 200 EUR

Signature : Editions Maison Lunel

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Brass

Length : 115 cm

Width : 42 cm

Height : 45 cm

Description

Rare pendulum wall light by Maison Lunel, France, circa 1950. The light arm swivels 180° and at the top, it passes through a ring where it is fixed by a ball-and-socket joint.

The shade is also swivel-mounted and adjustable. Double lighting.

Length: 115 cm (45.3 inches)

Height: 45 cm (17.8 inches)

Width (of the lampshade): 42 cm (16.5 inches)

Story

LUNEL is a French lighting manufacturer associated with the modern creative movement for its creations close to those of the first French designers. The LUNEL publishing house has notably popularized the use of lacquered tubular metal or even brass in the creation of lighting

Dealer

Galerie Canavèse

Decorative Arts of the eighteenth, nineteenth and twentieth Centuries

Tel : 09 50 75 60 25

Mobile : 06 08 41 29 80

Fax : 01 42 60 50 26

21 rue des Saints Pères

Paris 75006

fixtures.

Suspensions, lamps, wall lights or floor lamps, many of the pieces published by LUNEL are made in a simple, sober and refined style, with an easily identifiable design, which makes it a very popular publisher among collectors.