Description

This oil on canvas depicts the interior of a café filled with men dressed identically, black caps and pea coats. In the foreground, four men are playing cards. Two other groups are located in the background, closer to the window. The golden light, the economy of colors (stormy browns and blacks), the composition, give the whole a warm and tranquil atmosphere.

The work is signed lower right. It is dated (2012) and titled on the back. It is placed in a pretty carved wooden frame with a gray patina, which highlights the tones of the work. Everything is in perfect condition.

Her choice of subjects shows an equal attraction to landscape, still life and portrait. Tempted for a while by abstraction, Frédérique Colliot seems to have returned to figuration over the last ten years. His work is characterized by the use of bright and warm colors.
