Description

Superb and rare Renaissance period walnut buffet from the end of the 16th century representing the four seasons opening with four doors and two drawers on the front,

The doors offer very beautiful carved decorations with allegories of the four seasons surrounded by floral sculptures with a woman in their center.

Very beautiful piece of furniture of superb quality with its carved top with in its center a coat of arms topped with a crown. After research, the coat of arms would be from the Burgundy region and the crown would be a marquis' crown

paneled sides
