Description

Very charming Louis XVI / Directoire style cabriolet armchair from the Directoire period, 18th century. This very pretty armchair is made of molded beech wood, with a curved back. The armrest console is made of baluster, carved with a diamond. The tapered legs are finished with spinning tops characteristic of the Louis XVI style. The rear base is saber. The armchair is covered with a magnificent yellow and pink toile de jouy. The colors are elegant and wonderful and bring the armchair to life. This cabriolet is classic while being extremely decorative and charming. Its dimensions are ideal for slipping into a living room, a lounge, an office, a bedroom or an entrance. Very beautiful French work from the 18th century. France - XVIIIth
