Description

Abstract geometric composition with hints of the female body

Date: Circa 1970

Medium: Tempera on thick cardboard

H 64 cm x W 50 cm

Description: This abstract geometric composition subtly resembles the forms of the female body.

The artist creates a series of overlapping blocks and curves, where contours and volumes can be discerned, evoking a stylized human figure. The vivid colors, primarily shades of blue, purple, and pink, bring dynamism to the work, with a structure that suggests a synthesis between abstraction and bodily elements. Despite the geometric approach, the composition retains a certain sensuality in its subtle evocation of organic shapes. The piece is in the style of geometric abstraction akin to Sonia Delaunay, with a refined balance between organic forms and geometric constructions. Originating from France, it was part of a folder containing other unsigned works by the same hand.
