Rare armchair with backrest, seat and armrests in tawny leather, saddle stitching on a metal and solid oak structure. Jacques Adnet, circa 1949, France. Very good condition: reupholstered. Seat height: 47cm, armrest height: 67cm. One of Jacques Adnet's first creations in saddle stitched leather. This armchair was created at a pivotal time: he abandoned the neo-classical style of the previous decade and used natural materials such as leather and solid oak on furniture that was both modern and inspired by the countryside.
